FULVICAT

ENHANCE NUTRITIONAL EFFICIENCY

by promoting energy-efficient metabolic nutrition over energy-consuming ionic nutrition.

Fulvicat, a product derived from fulvic acids, contains a blend of organic acids and non-ionic surfactants. This formulation enhances nutritional efficacy through:

- Enhancement of cation- (CEC) and anion exchange capacity (AEC)
- Chelation of nutrients for rapid uptake, soil and foliar applied
- Increasing cell permeability
- Movement of high volumes of nutrients due to high exchange capacity
- Unlocking bound and oxidised nutrients

Fulvicat contains non-ionic surfactants which improve mobility of nutrients in the soil and in plants. Use with Calcium-based products
